

Employee Capital Markets (m/f/d)

To extend our competence regarding capital markets, we are currently looking for entrepreneurial-thinking colleagues who would like to support our team by acquiring and maintaining relationships to national as well as international investors. After having been introduced to our team and philosophy, you will be responsible for your own client base as well as for the brokerage of fixed income products.

Your profile:

You have a keen interest in capital markets and have already gathered some experience in the field of securities at a bank or broker. You have no difficulty integrating yourself into a dynamic success-oriented team. Your core competences include excellent communication, flexibility and open-mindedness.

What we offer:

As a rather young company, we are offering you the opportunity to generate an above average income due to a success-related remuneration. Additionally, you will be part of a very personable team.
